

New mini route in Cataract Gorge?

Does anyone know if the thin crack problem on the small yellow buttress (6ish metres high) directly below Offal Buttress has been done before? Surely it has, because its very obviously visible from the shady side. It doesn't seem to be written up anywhere. It goes in the low 20s. If nobody claims it I've got a good name for it....